pale are håkan paulsson, emma ekered, christina blom & joakim engström from jönköping / gothenburg sweden.

pale is raw, abrasive and dark northern industrial, which could be described as challenging but also captivating. the band is using traditional style power electronics and aggressive rhythms confronted with a provocative wall of sound - purely authentic and with full dedication. four charismatic singers are screaming their heart out to hymns of noise for the ultimate level of intensity.

the members håkan paulsson and joakim engström are already known from their countless performances with the legendary band sanctum. pale is already existing since more then 15 years and they did several live shows, but it took till today for the very first vinyl release. the band's lyrics deal with themes of death, suffering and dystopia and deliver a solemn and immersive dark soundscape to the environment we are fenced in.
