in 2015, phelios enchanted russia with his outstanding performance that is now released on tape including a download code for the digitalists. while listening, we more and more feel like cosmonauts diving deeper into the universe of this gifted musician, with every track being a microcosm of breathtaking beauty that we pass through on our journey. the foundation of these nine sparkling compositions are crystal-clear synth pads which are layered into sounds capes at various shades of dark ambient. combined with ritualistic drum patterns that pick up the pace in between droning bells, we awake from "hibernation" until we reach "atlantis" with its soft strings that brush away the last attachments we may have had to planet earth.

martin stürtzer, the mastermind behind the project, has truly left his fingerprint on the ambient music community. next to arranging concert series taking place in a church, he also pioneered in organizing his own performances within the wagon of a suspension railway, demonstrating his musical talent at the "schwebbahnkonzert" in wuppertal in 2007. in line with his ongoing commitment to creativity, phelios again invites his audience on board to enjoy the excellence of his work - back in st. petersburg and moscow and now on raubbau. for those who already fell for phelios creations, two previously unreleased tracks, „timelord“ and „cloud sector gamma“ have now found their way on this very record. but whether you are already familiar with phelios or not - this album simply is a must-have for everyone who appreciates complex ambient music on the highest level.
