in 2016 thomas garrison aka control was the first act to have a second maschinenfest performance released in this series, now he is the first to go for the third. part iii displays his art in its full, perverse glory: performed tracks were culled from older releases and revamped to fit with his aggravating darker and ultimately intense sound of now while still displaying those bursts of mind-piercing noise.

of course, maschinenfest 2018 was a special event, with everyone giving his best for the grand finale, and control was a definite highlight on the bill, seeing him taking power electronics into uncharted territory. those who were there can probably still feel the ringing in their ears and the blasts of sound shaking their clothes, while thomas garrison inhabited the huge stage all on his own, with his unmatched authentic performance of sound as such - preserved here in all its glory, complete with crowd reactions, for you to immerse in this abyss of misanthropist noise.
